The outlet pipe can be cut to the required length. Ensure all calculations are correct before cutting, remove any burrs before assembly. Slide the retaining nut onto the overflow pipe followed by the seal, make sure that the taper on the seal is pointing towards the trap. Push the outlet pipe into the trap, slide the seal along to sit in the outlet and tighten the retaining nut by hand only. Slide the cover over the outlet pipe, use of a suitable silicone grease can aid assembly. Finish connections to the waste pipe.

Maintenance

Place a bowl under the trap, remove the drain plug by unscrewing.

Clean inside the trap as necessary.

Ensure the rubber seal is in place on the plug and screw the plug back into the trap.
